The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 47-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dalton 4,265,739.

Dalton shows an impeller (figure 3) having a hub and resilient arms, integrally molded of Neoprene (column 4, lines 48-53), the hub having means 68 to receive a motor shaft. Although Dalton does not disclose that this impeller is used with a paintball loader, it includes all features claimed and could be used for this purpose with no structural change. The claim that the impeller "is configured for placement in a paintball loader" and that the arms "are sized ... to accommodate paintballs therebetween" does not define structure beyond that of Dalton.
